Campus Student Organisation Presidents meet to discuss the future

For three days, student organisation Presidents from around the country will be meeting to discuss the effects of Voluntary Students Unionism and how they are planning to deal with the new environment as well as planning the National Union of Students' Federal election campaign for 2007.

Michael Nguyen, National President of the National Union of Students said, "Presidents are meeting early in the year to start planning for the two big events for students in 2007,"

"2007 will be the first full year of voluntary student unionism (VSU) and also the start of the National Union of Students election campaign to 'Demand a better Future' "

Over 25, student organisation Presidents from across the country will be available for comment and photos at 3:30 pm on Thursday 11th January at Sydney University Quadrangle.

The NUS Presidents' Summit will be held 10th January – 12th January.
